ACAPULCO

On a pristine golden beach, on Mexico's Pacific Coast, is where the Aztecs paid homage to the sun. You too, can worship the sun in the shadow of this modern day Aztec temple.

THE FAIRMONT ACAPULCO PRINCESS

The Fairmont Acapulco Princess is surrounded by 480 acres of tropical majesty—swaying palms, blue lagoons, waterfalls, and flamingos. It's a place to replenish body, mind and spirit. Soft sand and sunlight. Tropical winds singing in the palms. All overlooking the blue Pacific. Here you can swim under a waterfall or take on the challenge of two professional golf courses. But this paradise offers even more, the Atlantes Amphitheater—one of the best multimedia facilities in all of Mexico. When you enter it, you'll feel you've been hurled back a thousand years, into a temple of the fabled Aztec. Giant idols guard the stage, walls are of rough-hewn stone, marrying the ancient world with an extraordinary array of 21st-century theatrical technology. An impressive choice of refurbished meeting facilities makes The Fairmont Acapulco Princess a delight for gatherings from ten to 2,000.
