Jazz at the Canadian Pacific Railway Pavilion

The Fairmont Palliser has long been a part of the local Calgary music scene. In the early years, the big band sound of the Jerry Fuller Orchestra was broadcast live on national radio from the Palliser's Ballroom. Today, we offer local Jazz music in our Oak Room Lounge, a favorite for local Calgarians as well as our in-house guests.

Another significant part of The Fairmont Palliser's history is the Canadian Pacific Railway. We have combined the romance of the rail along with local jazz music with this theme. The event will take place in the Canadian Pacific Railway Pavilion, inspired by the late 19th-century and early 20th-century railway stations of the British Commonwealth and Europe. With its striking 12 metre high glass rotunda, this unique venue offers you and your guests an unforgettable reception or dining experience. Situated directly adjacent to The Fairmont Palliser, the CPR Pavilion may accommodate up to 180 persons and is a perfect location for this extraordinary Jazz reception.
