

Big Things Happen at Small Meetings

1947: Breaking down barriers, one note at a time at Fairmont San Francisco

Ella Fitzgerald was part of a long line of Black entertainers, including Nat King Cole, Louis Armstrong, James Brown, Tina Turner, Lena Horne and many more, who helped break barriers by playing at the Venetian Room at Fairmont San Francisco—one of the first hotels in the United States to invite and welcome Black entertainers to perform and stay in the same location.
